I. COURSE DESCRIPTION

Specialized topics in Chinese History. This is an upper division course in Chinese History.

Spring 2023 topic—contemporary China, including political systems, economics, society, and law.

Please note: This syllabus may be revised over the course of the term. Any changes to the syllabus will be announced on Blackboard.

II. PREREQUISITES HIST 1301 and HIST 1302.

III. STUDENT LEARNING OUTCOMES Through successful completion of this course, students will achieve the following:

1. An understanding of the basic facts about contemporary China in their historical context, including important facts about the social, political, economic, and cultural features.
2. An ability to summarize and evaluate secondary sources.
3. Students will complete a ten-page (double-spaced) critical essay on one aspect of contemporary China (to be specified), analyzed in historical context. The paper should present (i) a well-formulated thesis, (ii) clear supporting arguments, (iii) persuasive evidence for each supporting argument, and (iv) a conclusion that synthesizes the central arguments.

IV. REQUIRED TEXTS

Required texts The following texts are required for the course:

Tamara Jacka, Andrew B. Kipnis, and Sally Sargeson, Contemporary China (Cambridge: Cambridge University Press, 2013), ISBN-13: 978-1107600799.

Barry Naughton, The Chinese Economy: Adaptation and Growth, 2nd ed. (Cambridge: MIT Press, 2017), ISBN-13: 978-0262534796. (Please make sure you purchase the second edition, not the first edition, titled Chinese Economy: Transitions and Growth, which was published in 2006, and so is very much out of date.)

Additional texts In addition, students will be required to read sections from the following texts, which will be available through Blackboard and the TSU Library:

Central Intelligence Agency, The World Factbook (Washington, DC: Central Intelligence Agency, 2021).

Robert Benewick and Stephanie Donald, The State of China Atlas: Mapping the World's Fastest-Growing Economy, rev. and updated ed. (Berkeley: University of California Press, 2009).

Patricia Buckley Ebrey, The Cambridge Illustrated History of China, 2nd ed. (Cambridge: Cambridge University Press, 2010).

William A. Joseph, Politics in China: An Introduction (Oxford: Oxford University Press, 2010).

Yukon Huang, Cracking the China Conundrum: Why Conventional Economic Wisdom is Wrong (New York: Oxford University Press, 2017).

Richard P. Appelbaum et al., Innovation in China: Challenging the Global Science and Technology System (Cambridge: Polity Press, 2018).

V. CLASS ORGANIZATION Students are responsible for all assigned readings and for all material presented.

In online classes, students must demonstrate attendance by completing at least one assignment in the first twelve days of class. For attendance purposes, students must log on at least once per week (the week begins on Sunday at 12:00 AM and ends on Saturday at 11:59 PM).

VI. TECHNOLOGY REQUIREMENTS This course is offered online only, and therefore students are required to use the following technology:

- Computers Due to the nature of this course, all students will need access to a computer, internet connection, word processing software, and a PDF reader. Students who do not own a laptop or desktop computer can access computers on the TSU campus at various computer labs. For TSU computer lab locations and hours of operation, see <http://oit.tsu.edu/index.php/computer-labs/> Students off-campus can access computers through local branches of public libraries.

All students must have a TSU computer account, an e-mail account linked to Blackboard, and a TSU Blackboard account. If you do not have a TSU computer account, you must acquire one as soon as possible.

- Blackboard Assignments and communications will be through Blackboard, available at <https://texasu.blackboard.com>

Students are required to check Blackboard daily.

- E-mail Students are required to check their TSU e-mail daily.

Student engagement is mandatory. Students are responsible for logging onto the course regularly and completing assignments in accord with the guidelines posted. Students are responsible for reading all course announcements, readings, and materials presented online. Students are responsible for completing all assignments within the timeframes given. As this is a 3-credit course, students must be prepared to spend at least 12 hours per week on class readings and assignments.

X. UNIVERSITY POLICIES

Academic Integrity The Texas Southern University 2019–2020 Undergraduate Catalog states the following:

Students must maintain a high standard of honesty in their academic work. They should avoid all forms of academic dishonesty, especially the following:

- Plagiarism. The appropriation of passages, either word for word (or in substance) from the writing of another and the incorporation of these as one's own written work offered for credit.
- Collusion. Working with another person in the preparation of notes, themes, reports, or other written work offered for credit unless such collaboration is specifically approved in advance by the instructor.
- Cheating on an Examination or Quiz. Giving or receiving, offering or soliciting information, or using prepared material in an examination or testing situation is expressly forbidden. On examinations and quizzes students are expected (a) to remain in the examination room until the examination is finished, (b) to refrain from talking, and (c) to refrain from bringing notes and books into the examination room.
- Impersonation. Allowing another person to attend classes, take examinations or to do graded assignments for an enrolled student under his or her name is strictly forbidden.

A violator of any of the above offenses will incur severe disciplinary action ranging from suspension to expulsion from the University. Specific guidelines will be administered by each dean.

See <http://www.tsu.edu/registrar/pdf/2019-2020-undergraduate-catalog.pdf>, pp. 32 – 33 (emphasis in original).

Grade of I The grade of "I" is given only when a student's work is satisfactory in quality, but due to reasons beyond his or her control, the work has not been completed. The missing work may be a midterm or final examination, a term paper, or other work. It is not given in lieu of an F. The instructor will stipulate, in writing, at the time the grade is given the conditions under which the "I" may be removed. This temporary grade of "I" is non-punitive and semester hours for the course are not considered in the computation of the quality-point average. Removal must be within one calendar year after the "I" is assigned, or the "I" grade shall become an "F". The grade "I" is not assigned if the student must retake the course. In the event a student who earns a grade of "I" decides to retake the course, the student is required to pay for that course.

Students with Disabilities Texas Southern University (TSU), Student Accessibility Services Office (SASO) provides individualized, reasonable accommodations for students with disabilities as defined by the Americans with Disabilities Act of 1990, the Americans with Disabilities Amendment Act of 2008, and Section 504 of the Rehabilitation Act of 1973. Students who may need accommodations are asked to contact the Student Accessibility Services Office (SASO) at (713) 313-4210 or (713) 313-7691. The SASO office is located in the Student Health Center, room 140. Business hours are Monday through Friday from 8:00 a.m. to 5:00 p.m. Please note Instructors are not required to provide classroom accommodations without approved verification from the Student Accessibility Services Office (SASO). Please schedule an appointment during my office hours to discuss approved accommodation provisions. TSU and SASO are committed to providing an inclusive learning environment. For additional information, please contact the SASO.

Title IX Information Texas Southern University is committed towards encouraging and supporting a welcome inclusive university community where all community members enjoy a community free from sex discrimination, harassment and violence. As a result, you should know that university faculty members and staff are required to notify the University Title IX Coordinator of any instances of sex discrimination and harassment, sexual violence, dating violence, domestic violence, or stalking. Sharing this information ensures that those harmed are provided support resources. What this means is that as your professor, I am required to report any incidents that are directly disclosed to me, or of which I am somehow made aware. The University's Counseling Center is available to you if you want to speak with someone confidentially. Please visit the University's Counseling Center's website <https://www.tsu.edu/ucc> for additional information.
